

Hay PID Policy 1 - Definitions

Hay Private Irrigation District

Hay Private Irrigation District (HPID) is the irrigation district as defined under the former NSW Private Irrigation District Act 1973 and as applied in the NSW Water Act 2000. The District defined boundaries may be viewed at the HPID office.

Water Entitlement (previously Irrigation Right)

The total volume of water shares recorded in the Hay Private Irrigation District's (HPID) Irrigation Water Entitlement Register (formally Irrigation Rights Register) that are associated with a property located within the defined area of the HPID.

Delivery Entitlement (previously Delivery Right)

Delivery Entitlement provides the right to have water allocation delivered through the Hay PID irrigation pipeline via a registered property outlet(s) according to the HPID Operational Delivery Rules. The total number of Delivery Entitlements associated with a property located in the defined area of the HPID is recorded in the HPID's Delivery Entitlements Register (formally Delivery Rights Register).

Registered Property Outlet

An outlet that has been installed in accordance with guidelines issued by the HPID for the purpose of accessing water allocation delivered to a particular property.

Accepted Metering Device

A device that has been approved by HPID's Board of Management (Board) for the purpose of metering the volume of water extracted at a Registered Property Outlet.

Member

A member is defined as a land owner within the boundary of the Hay PID that receives water deliveries via HPID water infrastructure.

Customer

A customer is defined as an individual or organization that receives a service from the HPID.
